Our Town

As withering and sere as October and scorched by burning sun a vast domain of Central Texas' richest farm lands reaching from Milam county to San Antonio and beyond are practically without crops or vegetation of any kind. Except for a small territory around the foothills of Round Rock no rains have fallen to insure basic moisture or to enable seed to spring up in more than twelve months. In Comal county and large sections of Hays no crops have been planted. Everywhere we hear the cry for rain. In the Central Texas cotton belt cotton and all farm growth are suffering the most severe disaster in modern times.

Milam county is far ahead of any county we have seen in this travel to the south and west. In the grain section the drought has taken a toll no less pronounced than in the cotton lands of Central State. Rain has fallen over a wide section of the south Texas cotton belt contiguous to the fruit and truck belt of the Rio Grande Valley. The cotton estimate of Nueces county has been raised from then to sixty thousand bales or more than five million dollars as a result of the rains.

We have visited some sections where the farmers have long since learned how to avoid financial disaster, such as attends purely cotton sections. Credits have not been affected nor have the farmers anything to fear for the future. Cows and chickens, vegetable, truck and feed crops swells bank deposits the year round and as Henry W. Grady so well expressed it, "the fullness of their day has come." When we come to realize that our problems are agricultural and not industrial; that on the systematic development of our farms to produce in major part what we consume, depends on economic welfare, then only will we see the worth of a proper developed agricultural region.

We will survive the droughts. No region of the continent has such recuperative power as this region. We call the south west to our mind destined to become the commissary of the World when we learn our possibilities and unlock this store house and draw from it the ripe yield that will give us our place in the sun.

WHEREABOUTS OF BEN BASKIN STILL A MYSTERY

CAMERON BOY MYSTERIOUSLY DISAPPEARS FROM HOME IN DALLAS.

Ben Baskin, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Baskin, mysteriously disappeared in Dallas last Friday morning, and although the police force have searched the entire city, no trace of him has been found.

Mr. Baskin left his home in Dallas about 10 o'clock to attend a luncheon of ex-students of A. & M. College. He had not returned home at night, and his wife became anxious and phoned his friends who informed her he was not at the luncheon. She then informed the police headquarters and a search for his whereabouts began, but no clue to his fate could be obtained.

He was said to have had a few hundred dollars upon his person, and fear is entertained that he might have met with foul play.

A reward has been offered for any information concerning his whereabouts.

CAMERON COUNTRY CLUB BUILDING TO BE FINISHED IN THIRTY DAYS.

The work on the lake has been finished the last week and when filled will be fully two acres. Water is being supplied from the city water mains at present to keep the fish alive in the lake. Water for the greens on the golf course is also being taken from the city mains.

A county wide celebration by the Legion posts at Rockdale and Cameron has been arranged for the Fourth of July to be held in the city of Rockdale.

A meeting of Legion men from Rockdale and Cameron was held in Milam Friday night at which time all details of the celebration were discussed.

There will be two days celebration. On Saturday July 4 the celebration will start. On Monday July 6th will be the big day because on Saturday the stores will not close. On Monday it is proposed to ask the business houses to close in every town in Milam county and all go to Rockdale on that day.

A combined band from Cameron, Thorndale and Rockdale will make music for the occasion, and on Monday June 6 a band concert followed by an automobile exhibit parade will be held on the streets.

The program will close Monday night with a big dance at Fair Park pavilion, and the legion announces that its dance will be strictly under its supervision and will be conducted in such a manner as to reflect nothing but credit upon the celebration. The very best music obtainable will be secured for this dance, and strict order will be maintained. A good temporary floor will be laid in the pavilion.

Rabid Skunk Bites Two Small Children

Two little girls of Mr. and Mrs. Will Isbell, who live on the Baskin-Zellner Farm near Pettibone were bitten by a rabid skunk while sleeping at night on the porch at their home about two weeks ago.

The next morning the animal was found dead in the yard and its head was cut off and sent to the Pasteur Institute in Austin for examination.

Its brain was found to be infected with rabies and the little girls were placed under the care of Drs. John and Tom Denson for treatment.

Serum from the Pasteur Institute was secured and several treatments have been given the little patients. It is thought that no ill effects will result due to the prompt preventive treatment.

FIVE STATES OVER TOP AMERICAN LEGION DRIVE

"WILL TEXAS BE NEXT" ASKS MARK MCGEE IN STATEMENT.

Dallas, Texas, June 17—"Will Texas Be Next?"

That question was asked today by Mark McGee, commander, when information reached headquarters of the state department of the Legion that five additional states have gone "over the top" in the American Legion national $5,000,000 Endowment Fund campaign for disabled veterans and World War orphans.

Since the campaign for the Texas part in the Legion soldier and orphan relief movement began the following (continued on last page.)

POSTPONES ACTION ON WARRANT ISSUE

The City Council met on Tuesday afternoon, and decided to postpone action on the proposed refunding warrant issue.

It is now problematical whether the warrants will be issued or not. The opponents of the recent bond issues have urged the council not to issue the warrants, taking the view that the will of the people was expressed in the election against any refinancing of the city's present indebtedness.

THORNDALE CHILD DIES FROM AUTO ACCIDENT

NECK WAS BROKEN BY IMPACT IN ACCIDENT ON LAST THURSDAY.

Little Elvera Rodenbeck was fatally wounded last Thursday about noon at her home in the Detmold community by an automobile running her down and inflicting injuries from which she died about six hours later in the Floeckenger Sanitarium at Taylor where she was hurriedly taken immediately following the accident.

Will Schwarz, an uncle of the unfortunate victim, had been to his mail box for the morning mail and was returning in his car and just as he passed the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Rodenbeck, their little daughter Elvera, 4 years of age, ran out from around the corner of the home, presumably unconscious of all danger and eager to greet a child in the car with Mr. Schwarz who was a playmate and relative, and ran in front of her uncle's car before her presence was known by the driver and before he could possibly stop the car it knocked her down, the force of the impact breaking her neck. She was immediately carried to Taylor but medical skill could not offer her relief and she died about six o'clock Thursday afternoon.

The body was brought back to Thorndale and the family home and on Friday the funeral service was held at St. John's Lutheran church at Detmold, conducted by Rev. Fr. Walther and the little body was tenderly laid in its last resting place in the Detmold cemetery. The Champion joins the friends of the family and also Mr. Schwarz in sincere sympathy. Mr. Schwarz, of course, could not have avoided the accident but this fact does not relieve his heart-aches. He has our sympathy along with the bereaved parents.—Thorndale Champion.

EPISCOPAL CHURCH.

Service next Sunday will be in the morning at 11 o'clock.
Sunday School at 9:45.

Commissioner Luther McDonald of Sharp with his two sons Clifford and Guy McDonald visited the Cameron Herald office this week.

MARK M'GEE COMMANDER FOR STATE TO BE HERE

EX-SERVICE MEN TO STRENGTHEN ORGANIZATION IN SIX COUNTIES.

A district meeting of the American Legion for the counties of Milam, Brazos, Robertson, Limestone, Madison, Navarre and Hill, will be held in Cameron on July 12. The counties mentioned comprise the district for which a Legion organization was formed in Mexico early this year.

Adjutant General Mark McGee, state commander of the Legion will be in Cameron for the meeting as will State Adjutant Folbre.

C. M. Boynton of Corsicana, named president of the district organization has been active in promoting the meeting and it is expected that a large number of legion men from over the district will be in Cameron for the meeting.

The Cameron post is beginning preparations for the meeting and will entertain the visiting legion men. The principal address is to be delivered by Mark McGee, the state commander.

The object of the district meetings are to stimulate interest in the work of the legion and to encourage membership. At the recent meeting held in Mexico the Legionnaires were told that considerable work is necessary to enlist the men for the Legion.

In some counties of the district no American Legion posts have been organized and in other counties of the district posts are said to be falling short of proper organization. It will be the aim of the Cameron meeting to stimulate interest and to revive the posts and to arrange for the organization of others.

A. F. Mitchell, former commander of the Cameron post, and active in Legion work in the state is putting forth every effort to encourage a large attendance at the meeting.

The Cameron post is one of the most active posts in the district and will make every possible effort to entertain the men.

Many Legion men have not personally met the state commander Mark McGee who is to be the principal speaker. This meeting will afford an opportunity for Legion members over the district to come closely in touch with the state officers.

With good roads throughout the district the drive to Cameron can be made from the remotest localities from three to four hours and the trip and return can be made in one day.

While the program has not been completed in detail, it is known to feature some good topics of discussion for the benefit of the Legion work.

Cameron post is looking forward to the entertainment and hopes that Legion men over the district will be here on July 12. The meeting is to be held on Sunday in order to insure as large attendance as possible.

J. E. SMITH S. A. & A. P. AGENT TO MOVE TO SAN BENITO.

Deed. Mr. Smith has lived in Cameron for several years, he and Mrs. Smith have made a host of friends in Cameron who regret to hear of their move, but wish for them a successful happy future.

B. T. Harris will succeed Mr. Smith as agent here.

HIGHER COURT AFFIRMS DECISION DISTRICT JUDGE

MANDAMUS REQUIRING DISMISSAL ELECTION CONTEST ALSO REFUSED

The Third Court of Civil Appeals at Austin on Wednesday affirmed the decision of Judge Watson in the case of F. D. Fowler, et al. vs. Miss Hazel Thomas, denying an application for injunction against Miss Thomas and her attorneys to restrain them from proceeding in the Gause Independent School District election contest. The higher court also refused a mandamus requiring Judge Watson to dismiss the election contest.

On the first Saturday in April an election of trustees of the Gause Independent School District was held. Although Miss Thomas led the ticket, and received some 140 votes, the returns of the election as announced by the election judges gave her only 62 out of some 220 votes cast. Immediately after the election 139 persons made affidavits to the effect that they had voted for her, and she instituted a contest. Upon being served with notice of the contest, two of the candidates who were declared elected resigned, and the Board of Trustees tendered one of the vacancies to Miss Thomas, who declined to accept, claiming the appointment was void because the contest had already been initiated.

The contest was set down for trial on May 25th, but on May 18th, F. D. Fowler, H. H. Gaston and W. C. Hatter, styling themselves voters in the election, applied to Judge Watson for an injunction to restrain Miss Thomas and her attorneys from proceeding. (continued on last page)

Minerva Oil Field Is Producing 800 Barrels Oil Daily Says Owens

John S. Owens President of the Owens Refining Company, has issued a statement revealing the astounding fact that the local oil field is now producing 800 barrels of oil daily as compared with 20 barrels per day in 1921.

If this production continues thru the year, and prospects are that it will be larger, the field will produce 292,000 barrels of oil annually, and figured at Mid-Continent prices, the price paid by the Owens Refining Co. is $657,000 annually for her "Infant Industry." Practically every cent of this money is distributed in Milam county. Besides being one of the banner cotton counties of Texas, Grand Old Milam is getting to be one of the best oil counties, with prospects growing brighter every day.

SQUIRRELS ONLY FUR BEARING ANIMALS IN OPEN HUNTING SEASON.

Austin, Texas, June 14.—Squirrels are the only fur bearing animals that can be hunted in both zones in the state at this time. Red fox and grey squirrels may be killed in both zones in May, June and July, with a bag limit of ten in a day.

The season is open on squirrels at all times of the year in Edwards, DeWitt, Caldwell, Gaudalope, San Saba, Mason, Gillespie, Llano, Kimble, Menard, Comal, McCulloch, Brown, Kerr, Burnet, Mills and Schleicher.

GALVESTON COUNTY COTTON GROWER SENDS NEW TYPE TO WASHINGTON.

Galveston, Texas, June 13.—Samples of Galveston county upland cotton, grown at La Marque, were forwarded Saturday to the department of agriculture at Washington by P. Dan George, the grower, who has been conducting a series of experiments in cotton growing. On one stalk of cotton, Mr. George said, he had produced 543 large bolls, with 10 locks to the boll, through a process of crossing.

FRUIT CROPS WILL BE SMALLER THAN LAST YEAR

Only fair crops of apples, peaches and pears are now expected in the United States this year, Department of Agriculture crop officials declared today. Frosts in late May reduced prospects in many scattered sections, particularly in some of the central States, Virginia, Michigan, and portions of New York.

The condition of apples on June 1 was nearly 10 per cent below the usual average on that date. The northwestern States expect more apples than were picked last year, but for the country as a whole the crop seems likely to be lighter, although much depends on the rainfall during the next few months.

Peach production shows a large increase in California where most of the crop is canned or dried, but in practically all other important States the crop is expected to be substantially smaller than last year. Even in Georgia, where many young trees are coming into bearing, the crop is expected to be less than 7,000,000 bushels compared with 8,333,000 bushels last year.

The pear crop also is reported only fair this year. California alone among the important producing States expecting materially larger crop than in the preceding season.

TEXAS SUFFERS LOSS.

Fort Worth, Texas, June 15.—A loss suffered by Texas schools annually has been called to the attention of the public in a striking way by the resignations of President W. B. Bizzell of the Texas A. & M. College and of Dr. Carl Hartman of the University of Texas. Not only do the colleges of the state suffer this annual loss, but the public schools face the same problem. New Mexico, Arizona, Oklahoma, Arkansas, and Louisiana year after year take many of the best Texas public school teachers.

Salaries paid the experts from these Texas schools are better in other states than Texas. Very little is said ordinarily about the public school teachers leaving, but the loss is hard to make up. Several Texas cities have stopped the exodus by raising salaries, but smaller cities and towns still pay heavily with small salaries.

SCHOOL BOARD ELECTS WILKERSON OF CLIFTON.

J. C. Wilkerson of Clifton, Texas, has been elected superintendent of the Rockdale Public Schools, and has accepted the position, and will move his family here some time this summer.

In choosing Mr. Wilkerson the Board feels it has made a wise choice. There were almost half a hundred applicants for the place, and for the salary the Rockdale school is able to pay the Board feels that it has been fortunate in securing a man of such high scholarship and so well recommended as a good school executive and all-round good citizen.

Mr. Wilkerson has been superintendent of schools at Clifton for the past four or five years, and is leaving there greatly to the regret of his school officials, and only because he is seeking advancement in his chosen profession. His A. B. Degree is from State University, and he was one of the honor graduates. He has also made considerable progress on his M. A. Degree in Chicago University. He has had wide experience as a school executive.—Rockdale Reporter.

CHARGED WITH LIQUOR VIOLATION; MARRIES WITNESS STOPS TRIAL.

ROSEBUD MEXICAN STUDENT WINS HIGH HONORS IN SCHOOL.

Lewis Gomez, a Mexican student in the Rosebud High School, has the distinction of having won the highest average ever experienced by a pupil of the Rosebud school. His average for this year was 98, and his record is praiseworthy for the fact that this is the first year in his school career that it has been possible for him to attend the full nine months. Heretofore he has been hampered by being needed at home to help with the crops and being at such a distance from school was impossible for him to attend regularly in bad weather.

His records in English and Spanish are worthy of note, as his grades in these languages were perfect. Aside from this he was very obedient and his grades in deportment excellent.—Rosebud News.

Age No Barrier to W. G. Jackson Who Is to Complete Studies

Although he has passed the meridian of life and the frost of winters is turning his hair white, W. G. Jackson, teacher of the school at Marlow, is completing his course at Baylor this year and at the end of the term will receive his permanent certificate.

He is taking the course of study by correspondence and his enthusiasm for the work is no less cheerful than the senior who completes at commencement time.

The life work of W. G. Jackson as a farmer, a preacher and a school teacher is worthy of the best traditions of rural American history.

Early in life he spent on the farm in Coryell county. He is a native of Texas and is proud of the fact. His father moved to Coryell county before the civil war and there Jackson was born. He grew up in the school of hardships as other boys did in that era of the frontier. Later in life he became a Baptist minister and some times preaches while engaged in teaching. At one time he was pastor at the Buckholts and North Elm Baptist churches.

Now he is teaching at Marlow. He taught there last year and has been elected to teach again this year. He will soon complete his studies and will not have to take examinations to teach. It will be a proud day for Bro. Jackson and his good wife who through all the years has been his inspiration. They live on a farm at Marlow.

Public debates and spelling matches have flourished under the administration of Mr. Jackson at Marlow. The school has some noted spellers, among them Edith Allison, still in the primary grades. The debate Friday night will be: "Resolved that vocational training is better for country children than book learning."

Bro. Jackson is the father of W. C. Jackson who is head and owner of the Texas School Supply Company, distributing school equipment.

LIVER TROUBLE

Louisiana Man Tells How He Keeps "Up and Going."

"It doesn't matter how strong and healthy we think we are," says Mr. W. S. Reynolds, of Arcadia, La., "every once in a while, in order to keep up and going, we have to cleanse the system and take a little something for the liver."

"My old standby is Black-Draught. I have used it off and on for 20 years."

"I get bilious and have a bad taste in my mouth. My head feels dull. I just don't feel like getting around and doing my work. I know it isn't laziness, but biliousness, so I take a few doses of Black-Draught and, when it acts, I get up feeling like new, full of pep and ready for any kind of work. I can certainly recommend it."

Black-Draught liver medicine is made from pure, medicinal roots and herbs and contains no harmful, habit-forming mineral drugs. In an easy, natural way it helps cleanse the system of poisonous impurities and tends to leave the organs in a normal, healthy condition.

When Better Automobiles Are Built, Buick Will Build Them

No. 19

Question: Why is a used Buick the next best buy to a new Buick?

Answer: Because the correctness of Buick design and the quality of Buick manufacture are not altered by use. A used Buick is a better investment than many new cars of other makes.

REGISTRATION PASSES 2,700.

Austin, Texas, June 16.—Registration for the first term of the University of Texas summer session has already passed the 2,700 mark, and gives promise of reaching 3,000 before the end of the registration for the first term, according to officials. At the same time last year, 2,474 students had registered. The total registration last summer was 2,710. If the number of students registering late is as great this summer as in past years, the total enrollment will easily pass three thousand. Particularly large registration is noticeable in the Graduate School, due to the fact that many advanced students take advantage of the summer vacations to work toward higher degrees. There are now 352 students enrolled in the Graduate School, as compared with a total of 293 enrolled at the same time last year. It is thought that there will be 400 graduate students enrolled by the time registration closes on Monday, according to Dr. H. W. Harper, dean of the Graduate School.

ITCHING ECZEMA DRIED RIGHT UP BY THIS SULPHUR

Any breaking out of the skin, even fiery, itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying a little Mentho-Sulphur, says a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation instantly brings ease from skin irritation, soothes and heals the eczema right up and leaves the skin clear and smooth.

It seldom fails to relieve the torment and disfigurement. Sufferers from skin trouble should get a little jar of Rowles' Mentho-Sulphur from any good druggist and use it like a cold cream.

The Double Test

By CRITTENDEN MARRIOTT

(© 1925, Western Newspaper Union.)

HENRY VAN STORMOUT stamped up the three steps to the broad porch. At the top he paused and glared at the exceptionally handsome young woman who had come to the door to meet him.

"Mr. Harvey in?" he demanded. The girl studied him curiously. "No," she answered at last. "Dad won't be in till night. But I'm the business manager of this ranch. 'Spose you sit down and talk to me."

"Thank you," he said, less gruffly than before. "I'm Mr. Stormout," he continued. "I'm a business man, here on business, and I believe in putting things plainly. My son, Jack, is infatuated with you and wants to sacrifice all his prospects by marrying you. I want to buy him off and I'm prepared to pay. What's your price?"

Once more the girl studied the man. "You're gambling that I can deliver the goods," she observed; "and I'll play that you are right, and lay my cards on the table. I've done a good deal to pull Jack out of the dregs. Your son got here in an empty car. He had fled from New York because he thought he had killed a waiter in a hotel when he was drunk. He was a bundle of dirty rags when a brakeman flung him out of the car and under my horse's feet. I'd ridden over for the mail. Coming that way he seemed to be a special charge on me. So I told Jim Harris, dad's foreman, to put him in the wagon and take him to the ranch and try to make something out of him. That was three years ago. Three years! I suppose you've been hunting for him ever since?"

Van Stormout grunted. "You suppose wrong," he snorted. "He'd been going to the dogs for three years before that; and I wiped him out of my books. But when my younger son died two months ago I started a search. If he's still a sot—"

"He isn't. He hasn't touched a drop for more than two years. But if he had stayed a sot whose fault would it have been?"

"I can see that I owe you a good deal," repeated Stormout. "But, my dear young lady, can't you see that his reformation makes it all the more necessary for him to marry his class? The Stormouts are a very old family. They go back to—"

"To Adam," he said. "So do the Harveys," she said. "I'm not through yet. Three years ago I saw some of your son's propaganda in the Tucson Star telling all about Jack and the waiter and all. That put it squarely up to me and no time to lose. It was a case of put up or shut up. So I threw myself squarely at Jack's head."

"You did what?" Van Stormout was bewildered.

"Proposed to him! I knew Jack had been in love with me for at least two years and I knew that he'd never ask me till he got that waiter off his mind. 'Humph,' Van Stormout's feelings were sadly mixed. 'You didn't tell him that—'

"I didn't tell him any truth, I lied. I told him that he had been identified and that officers were on the way from New York with extradition papers for him. And I offered to marry him and start for one of those Central American dumps where there isn't any extradition. I've got plenty of money—not so much as you have, I reckon, but plenty; and I said I'd put up for the two of us. Oh! I sure did make love to him, all right. And it would have about killed me if he'd taken me at my word. But I had to know, of course."

"Know what?" "Know if he was yellow or clear white. And he turned out white. Turned me down flat. God bless him. I knew he was white; but—Lord! How I did love that boy. But I still had to prove him the other way."

"Eh?" "Show him the primrose path, of course. So I told him that I had been lying—that there weren't any officers after him; that he hadn't even stunned that waiter, let alone killed him; that you had a fat calf ready to kill if he'd come home; and last I showed him the story in the newspaper."

"And then?" Van Stormout was breathless. "Then he said that he preferred chicken to fat veal any day and that he meant to marry me and stay here; and that you could go to h—l. I knew he'd say something like that, but I was scared to death that he mightn't."

Van Stormout looked at him. "Here! seems to be a pretty good place after all," he observed. "Looks a lot better to me than it did when I came half an hour ago. Probably it'll make a man of Jack in time."

"In time? It's a man, already!" Nellie's tones were indignant. Van Stormout snickered. "I'll take your word for it," he agreed, hastily. "Shake"—he held out his hand. Nellie took it. "Sure thing, papa," she chuckled.

Van Stormout chuckled, too. "Not yet," he cautioned. "Perhaps later—when I think it's time—"

"Time? Humph! I see it is time to put you wise to a few things. Jack and I were married yesterday. And Jack's coming up the walk right behind you. Shake again, papa—for keeps!"

And Van Stormout shook.

Your Kitchen--not just a place to work but a room of comfort and convenience

The most important room in the house, from the woman's point of view--the kitchen!

For it is here that she spends most of her time. If it is unattractive and gloomy, she will be gloomy, too. If it is cluttered and lacking in order, it takes twice as much time for her to get through her daily work than it would in a kitchen that is systematic and efficient.

But it is easy to put the kitchen in order. It is easy to make the kitchen more than just a place to work in.

You can make your kitchen livable, enjoyable, and at the same time much better for work than it ever was before.

You can do it, first of all, by providing an efficient working center, uncluttered and orderly, in the Hoosier Kitchen Cabinet.

In the new Hoosier Highboy every detail is scientifically planned and perfected to save time and work. Not in years of housekeeping can so many conveniences be assembled, and certainly not in one such capacious working center!

But the new Highboy does more than save time and work. It is a handsome piece of furniture. And it makes the kitchen not only pleasant to work in but a pleasant place just to be in as well. Elegant in finish, yet dainty in decoration, the Highboy gives to the kitchen a planned, completely furnished look.

Don't wait to enjoy the convenience of a Hoosier Highboy you can enjoy one now, easily and economically. Terms if desired.

BAPTIST HAVE LARGE CROWD ON SUNDAY.

Scripture—"Unto you therefore who believe, He is precious." There was a large crowd of the membership with many visitors to greet the pastor last Sunday morning on his return from a revival meeting in Louisiana.

The pastor took for his subject Sunday morning "To you who believe" and his text was the words of Peter when he said "Unto you therefore who believe he is precious." He started his discussion by saying that his own heart was hungry for a message of consolation from the book of God and that he had felt peculiarly impressed with this passage of scripture. He drew from it two great lessons:

FIRST, Believers Obey and Obtain. He said, "That mankind comes to believe in God through the Life, Work Death and Resurrection of Jesus Christ, Gods Son, who came to make known God unto man. He warned the people with the fervor of his soul with the words of Peter when he said, "Therefore, lay aside all malice, guile, hypocrisy, envying and evil speaking. If he who knows the secrets thoughts of men were to make known the records of the past week would he find in us these treacherous things that the book of God fervently warns against; such as malice, guile, hypocrisy, envying and evil speaking, and quoting the scripture from Peter "Abstain from fleshly lust which was against the soul." Also warning the people that the one great evidence of your faith is that you love one another, quoting Peter when he said, "See to it that you love one another fervently." Believers in Christ have purity of soul, not from their work but it is their belief that makes their soul pure. Believers in Christ have a desire for the Bible and they need the Bible that they may grow in grace. "Thy word have I hid in my heart that I might not sin against Thee."

Second, Jesus is Precious to the Believers. "Unto you therefore who believe Jesus is precious." Jesus is precious to the believers because when one once gets a glimpse of Christ's willingness to leave Heaven with its glory and come to earth with its sins and sorrows to redeem man from his fall, to such indeed He is precious. He is precious to us because He comforts us in life and gives us strength to bear the crosses that otherwise would crush our hearts. But that is not all. Christ does not only comfort us in life but will stand by us in death. How good it is to know that when we come to the end of the way that Christ will be there and "Though we walk through the valley of the shadow of death we will fear no evil" for he will be with us.

"S. precious is Jesus, my Savior, my King,

His praise all the day long with rapture I'll sing;

To Him in my weakness for strength I will cling,

For He is so precious to me."

But Christ does not only stand by us in death, but thanks be unto God He will raise us from the dead. As Christ was raised from the dead, so shall every one of his believers be raised from the dead. Then, "When our spirits clothe immortal, Wings its flight to realms of day, This my song through endless ages Jesus led me all the way."

HUDSON - ESSEX PRICES ARE AGAIN REDUCED

CAMERON TIRE STORE TELL OF LOW PRICES ON FAMOUS CLOSED CARS.

"Essex reduces prices again," said August Horstmann, Hudson-Essex dealers, "an din doing so has established a record low price for six cylinder cars. Essex coaches have been the lowest priced six cylinder cars on the market, and now they are offered at a price actually below that of any six cylinder open car.

"Especially with the easy purchasing terms which we now have in effect, almost anyone who has the purchase of any closed car in mind can buy an Essex coach.

"This reduction in price is a most striking example of what can be accomplished by a large volume of business. Hudson-Essex is now the largest builder of six cylinder motor cars in the world. This fact results in economies which would be possible under any other condition. That is why the Essex can be offered at so very favorable a figure.

"The reduction in the Essex price comes just a month after the cut in the Hudson Super-Six. Both of these reductions were in line with the Hudson-Essex policy of giving the best possible value at all times.

"What are the distinguishing features of Hudson-Essex manufacturing economy? First, as we said, Hudson-Essex is the largest six manufacturer in number of cars made. Secondly, it is a specialist in enclosed cars—ninety per cent of its entire production being in the popular Hudson and Essex coaches. Thirdly, overhead expense is light and it is divided over the combined totals of Hudson and Essex. Fourth, Hudson-Essex originated the coach, has made over 250,000 of them, and naturally knows how to build them well and economically.

"Hudson and Essex sales leadership all over the United States are proof that motor car buyers know and appreciate these facts.

"Large as has been our business this spring, we look for it to grow further. The Hudson and Essex coaches are now at such reasonable prices that they tempt the desires of every man and woman who is looking for real motor car value. All this spring we could have done a much larger business if we only had had the cars. That indicates of course a great demand which is yet to be supplied."

MORNING SAP TRAIN

TO WACO AND RETURN MAY BE DISCONTINUED.

How would you like to get up some fine morning, Mr. Rockdale citizen, wend your way to the dear old Sap depot and find that your favorite train had been discontinued?

Well, that very thing may happen. Agent L. A. Baxter, of the G. H. & S. A. R. R. Co., (formerly and still better known as the Sap) informs us that he has received inquiries from the division freight and passenger department, asking him how he thinks Rockdale people would react to the discontinuance of the train known as the Waco plug, which leaves Rockdale at 8:00 a. m. and returns from Waco at 7:30 the same evening. We understand inquiries have been made of the other agents between Rockdale and Waco.

Mr. Baxter states that the passenger business out of Rockdale for this train is very light, which is undoubtedly true; yet this train is one of the handiest that serves this city. Making connection as it does with the interurban at Waco this train enables the Rockdale man or woman to make the daylight trip to Dallas in a little more than six hours, arriving there at 2:30 p. m.

The Reporter feels sure that Rockdale people would regret very much to lose this train, and we trust that the new management will not find it necessary to discontinue it.

Mr. Baxter is also in receipt of information to the effect that the G. H. & S. A. has placed orders for 2,000 new 50-ton box cars, a proportionate part of which will be assigned to this branch. Delivery of these cars will commence in 90 days and will be at the rate of 125 cars per week. Orders have also been placed for a large number of automobile cars, and these will be delivered at the rate of 100 cars per week.

While the name of the road is now "Galveston, Harrisburg and San Antonio," it will take a long time to deprive it of the good old fashioned nickname which it has so long been called by, and local patrons will continue to speak of it as the "dear old Sap."—Rockdale Reporter.

Dizziness came on occasionally and my kidneys failed to act often enough. After using Doan's Pills I was cured."

REV. G. S. TUMLIN DIED SUDDENLY AT HIS HOME IN DALLAS.

Rockdale friends were greatly shocked Monday by the news of the death of Rev. G. S. Tumlin, age 73 years, former much-loved Baptist minister of this city, which occurred at his home in Dallas Saturday.

Rev. Tumlin held the pastorate of the Rockdale Baptist church for two separate terms. During the early 1900's he spent seven or eight years here, coming back for his second tenure of office shortly after the war and resigning about two years ago, at which time he gave up his active ministerial work, and retired to spend his declining years with his children.

Decedent was recognized for many years as one of the really strong men of his denomination. He was a man of decided and unbending convictions, an earnest, honest, conscientious christian gentleman of the old Southern school. He had lived in Texas for thirty years, coming to this State from Georgia. He is survived by his wife, a son, George A. Tumlin, and eight daughters, as follows: Mrs. W. T. Hancock, Mrs. C. B. Carswell, Mrs. E. L. Rippey, of Dallas; Mrs. K. V. Kibble and Mrs. G. R. Randle of Ft.

Worth; Mrs. R. B. Masterson, Jr., of Amarillo; Mrs. J. H. Harris of Cedar-town, Ga., and Mrs. B. F. Crosby of Greenville. The funeral was held in Dallas Monday from the home of Mrs. Hancock, interment being in the Grove Hill cemetery.—Rockdale Reporter.

Drugs Excite the Kidneys, Drink Water

Take Salts at First Sign of Bladder Irritation or Backache

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble because we often eat too much rich food. Our blood is filled with acids which the kidneys strive to filter out; they weaken from overwork, become sluggish, the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache, or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or if you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, begin drinking lots of good soft water and get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine.

This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer are a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; can not injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

MRS. ETTA W. RINGGOLD,

County Home Agent.

MRS. J. M. TUCKER.

Thursday evening at 8:50 p. m.

Mrs. Mattie J. Tucker passed away at her home in Cameron after a ten weeks illness with dropsy. Every attention possible had been given her during her long illness and all of her children were here for her funeral which occurred Sunday afternoon June 14, 1925 from her residence.

The occasion was fraught with a peculiar sadness for the family for their father, Mr. John M. Tucker, died scarcely seven months ago and this double bereavement made their sorrow deeper.

Mrs. Tucker had lived in her present home about forty years and had endeared herself to her neighbors by her many acts of loving kindness and she will be sadly missed in this neighborhood circle. Her children were living in widely removed homes. For her funeral Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Tucker and their daughter, Francis came from Austin, Mr. and Mrs. J. Milton Tucker from Dallas, Martin Tucker from Dallas, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Tucker and their son, Wilbur, Jr., came from Chicago and Mrs. Ruth Tucker Frierson and her little son L. E. Jr., came from Alexander, La.

Mrs. Tucker came from Georgia with her father's family to Cameron in her early childhood with several sisters, she was orphaned and grew up in the home of her older sister Mrs. Jennie T. Smith. Her maiden name was Martha Jane Fulton and she was born in Tunnel Hill, Ga., on December 24, 1863. On the same date in 1879 she was married to Mr. John M. Tucker in Cameron, where she has ever since resided. She is survived by four stalwart sons: Messrs. Edgar, Milton, Martin and Wilbur and one daughter, Mrs. Ruth Tucker Frierson. The bereaved have the sympathy of many friends in the loss of their good mother.

Her grave was banked with handsome floral tributes from family friends from many places in Texas and many friends and relatives were here to attend the funeral services conducted by Rev. R. S. Marshall pastor of the Methodist church of this city.

His Own Death Notice

Mike was working diligently in his potato patch when he saw the postman coming up the road, bringing a black-edged envelope.

Mike became uneasy, and showed it.

"Hope it's not bad news," said the postman.

"It is that," said Mike, looking at the address. "It's upset I am entirely. My brother, Pat's dead. I can tell by his handwriting."—From Everybody's Magazine.

Gave Name to Vogue

The name "silhouette" is derived from Etienne de Silhouette, a French minister of finance, who was famous for his measures of economy in 1759. All business was stripped of unnecessary detail. Paintings were reduced to mere outlines. Whether this was in conformance with the spirit of economy or because it was coincidence that black and white outline portraits became popular at this time, the name "silhouette" was applied to them and has clung.

Animal Highly Valued

The water buffalo is valued highly in China, especially in the fields where it is used for the cultivation of the rice crop. It is said that they are more powerful than the ox and capable of dragging or carrying a heavier load. The female yields a much greater quantity of milk than a cow, and of excellent quality, from which the ghee or semi-fluid butter of India is made. The life is valued for its strength and durability.

Riches Garnered From Great Chilean Desert

Chile has many thousands of square miles of land capable of cultivation, yet its most valuable asset is a desert where the rainfall is seldom more than half an inch per annum. It does not grow a single tree, or even a blade of grass, except where patches of imported soil have been laid. This is the nitrate country, which employs 50,000 people directly and indirectly five times as many, and in which something approaching $200,000,000 is invested.

There are over one hundred and seventy separate workings, each of which is the center of a busy population. Yet every ounce of food, every yard of clothing, every cog and shaft of its huge machinery, every pint of water even, has to be brought from a distance. For many miles around the country produces nothing but nitrate of soda.

It is an amazing fact that the most valuable fertilizer of commerce comes from a region where nothing will grow, but it is a case of all fertilizer and no soil and no rain. In earlier days water was so valuable that it was a saying that it was cheaper to drink champagne, but now water is carried by pipes from far-off sources, some of which are 200 miles distant.

Father Picked Moral From Youngster's Joke

A prominent Los Angeles attorney told the following story in a recent address to the graduates of a grammar school. He said that his son, a high-school graduate, came home one day and asked him if he were a good mathematician.

"Yes, my boy, I think I'm pretty good," the father replied.

"Well, then, I have a problem I'd like to have you solve. There were three frogs sitting on a log—a bullfrog, a tree frog and a toad frog. The bullfrog decided to jump off. How many were there left?"

The father smiled. "Why, that's an easy one. Two frogs were left."

"And that's where you are all wrong!" exclaimed the boy, grinning.

"Three frogs were left, because the bullfrog only decided to jump off. He didn't jump."

Then the lawyer impressed upon his audience that a person who would win success must act promptly on his decisions.

Primitive Water Clocks

In the Malayan peninsula travelers recently found the natives using a most primitive method for measuring time, which has probably been in vogue for 5,000 years. It is called the water clock and is simply a small dish or round bowl with a small hole in the bottom. When this is placed in a tub of water it gradually becomes full and sinks, which always happens in the same period of time. On the Malay junk it is a common thing to see a coconut shell floating in a bowl of water to tell off the time away from the home port. The ancient Egyptians used the water clock. The sand glass or water glass has two uses all its own at the present time—for boiling eggs, and in the English house of commons to time the bells that ring to notify members that a division is at hand.

Good Advice for Women

Therefore I advise all women who are in poor health to take a course of this treatment."—Mrs. J. T. Stauffer, 1522 W. Houston Street.

SAGE TEA DANDY TO DARKEN HAIR

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair

You can turn gray, faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous almost overnight if you'll get a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" at any drug store. Millions of bottles of this old famous Sage Tea Recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, are sold annually, say well-known druggists here, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.

Those whose hair is turning gray or becoming faded have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful.

This is the age of youth. Gray-haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, to-night and you'll be delighted with your dark, handsome hair and your youthful appearance within a few days.

When to Find Acorns

Many members of the tree-planting army like the oak. As a group, oaks carry general marks of distinction from other trees. One of these marks is the bearing of acorns, in which the oak has no competition, says the American Tree association of Washington, which for a two-cent stamp will send you tree-planting suggestions.

All of the oaks may be grouped as either white or black. To the former group belong the white oak proper and the bur oak, swamp white oak, chestnut oak, overcup oak, the post oak, and live oak, which may be recognized by the rounded lobes of their leaves, with the exception of the post oak and live oak, which have no lobes; and by their light gray or light buffish-brown bark, which breaks off into loose, flaky scales. The bur oak is distinguished from its close kinsmen by its corklike branches. The trees of this group mature their acorns in a single year, and for this reason acorns of old and new crops are never found on the same tree.

Relic of Feudal Days

The old Norman tower of Holy Trinity church, at Richmond, in Yorkshire, England, dates back to the Eleventh century. It is one of the few, if not the only church where the old custom of ringing the curfew still survives. The tower contains two bells. For centuries the larger bell has been rung every day at six o'clock in the morning and again at curfew hour—eight o'clock in the evening. The smaller bell is rung at eleven o'clock on Shrove Tuesday morning "to bid the housewives tend the fires and cook the pancakes well." Another quaint survival at this church is the practice of ringing the "gathering bell" on the occasion of a funeral to give the mourners an hour's notice to prepare. Unless speedy restoration work is undertaken this ancient tower is said to be doomed.—Family Herald.

NEW BUILDINGS.

The rural schools are making great progress under the leadership of Mrs. Katie Robbins in their building. Five new rural buildings will be completed by school opening this fall: Val Verde, Belmena, String Prairie, Vogelsang and North Elm will have new buildings this next term. All buildings are meeting the requirements for state aid and are modern in every respect. It shows a forward trend in educational movement and that Milam county people are willing to tax themselves in order that their children and those coming after them may enjoy the best school advantages.

PENINGER-TEAGUE.

The following item from the Waco Times-Herald will be read with interest by friends of the bride, Mrs. Leseur R. Teague who was formerly Miss Leseur Robinson, sister of Miss Tabbie Robinson of Cheeves Bros. and niece of Judge Edward F. English of Cameron.

A home wedding of Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of the bride, Mrs. Leseur Robinson Teague, with Dr. J. M. Dawson of the First Baptist church the celebrant, gave in marriage Mrs. Teague to Mr. A. W. Peninger of Fort Worth, with half a hundred friends present to witness the impressive ritual.

Greeting the guests at the threshold were Mrs. John Wood, Mrs. C. L. Goodall and Miss Burks.

Continuing the greetings at the head of the stairs were the Mesdames W. V. Crawford, Emma Griffin, D. E. McGlasson, George J. Rohan, Miss Eva Harris and Miss Thompson.

Throughout the reception suite beautiful flowers made the appropriate setting, and heralding the wedding hour, a son of the groom, Mr. John Peninger of Austin, sang in rich, deep voice, the beautiful Cadman selection, "At Dawning."

At the piano playing the accompaniment, the wedding march and soft melodies during the ceremony was Mrs. Gray Duling of Temple, cousin of the bride.

The bride was preceded by her sister, Miss Una Robinson, who wore a summer costume of peach georgette and carried an arm bouquet of Killarney roses and graceful sprays of lilies of the valley.

The bride, who entered with her sister, Isaac Teague, recently returned with honors from the University of the South at Sewanee, Tenn., wore a beautiful charmeuse ensemble suit, in champagne tones, embroidered in discs of lighter colored floss, while a small becoming hat framing a lovely face was of tan trimmed with willow buds and cluster of roses in sunburst shades of bronze, gold and yellow.

Amber beads, and a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and Ophelia buds completed a charming costume.

The improvised altar was made of palms artistically arranged.

The groom was attended by his son, A. W. Peninger, Jr.

Following the ceremony best wishes were often expressed to Mr. and Mrs. Peninger.

Immediately after the wedding, the bride and groom led the way to the dining room, where tossing her bouquet it was caught by Miss Trainor.

A beautiful wedding cake, embellished in confectioners blossoms in most artistic pattern was at the center of the flower-decorated, lace-covered table.

Presiding at the punch bowl were the following group assisted by Miss Robinson: Mesdames W. V. Crawford, Emma Griffin, Misses Hendrix and Berry.

The bride is a capable business woman, a very tactful, winsome personality and has many friends who wish her a future all happiness.

Industry Aims At Health Goal For Men And Women Workers, New Ideal In Business Progress

CHAMPION ATHLETES AT WORK.

A frequent turn-over of labor is a veritable millstone around the neck of all business. It is like a constantly recurring knot in the weave of the industrial fibre that mars its perfection and weakens its strength, and any effort made to avoid it proves a wise investment, earning rich dividends in loyalty and increased production.

The progressive organization leaves nothing undone that will keep its people healthy and happy in their work. Security is the thing that is most highly prized by the average salaried man or woman and when it is assured him he is willing and glad to make adequate return in loyalty. This is the theory of the Prudential Insurance Company, at whose home office in Newark, N. J., 5,700 men and women are employed. The turn-over is negligible, 1,500 of that number having been with the company for more than ten years. Approximately 2,300 have been in the Prudential home office more than five years.

The Prudential for many years has been increasing the privileges of its forces and improving their surroundings until it would seem that the maximum of advantages has been given.

"We try to admit to our ranks only the best type of men and women," said William W. Van Nalts, the assistant secretary and home office supervisor.

There is a definite scale of salary and the pay of every employee is considered on the anniversary of appointment. When a vacancy occurs it is filled by selecting some one in the service.

"Our interest does not stop with the persons in our immediate employ," continued Mr. Van Nalts. "It extends to their families through our system of group insurance. All employees are insured without cost to them, as soon as they start to work, the amount increasing with length of service, and the company recently announced a plan under which the employees may supplement this free insurance by securing additional protection at very cheap rates.

"We try to conserve the health of our people by short hours. The hours are from 8:30 until 4 o'clock with a full hour for lunch, which is furnished by the company. On Saturday we close at 12 o'clock. At 10:30 and 2:30 each day there is a five-minute rest period.

"The company has a plan of service disability allowances, and also a service retirement or pension plan. To stimulate initiative we give cash rewards for meritorious suggestions, the value of which warrants such recognition. To render first aid in case of accident or sudden illness there is an infirmary under supervision of two physicians and three nurses. There is a recreation room fitted with easy chairs and a player piano for the women. The men have another room equipped for various games.

"When the fact is realized that virtually half a person's waking hours are spent at his work the necessity for keeping him interested and happy is apparent.

"In business as in personal relationships, one is likely to get his own echo. The loyalty of our people is ample proof of their appreciation of the company's efforts to make their work interesting, their livelihood secure and their lives happy," concluded Mr. Van Nalts.

GOV. JAMES E. FERGUSON PRAISES W. M. W. SPLAWN.

Austin, Texas, June 16.—Former Gov. James E. Ferguson had some good words to say about President W. M. W. Splawn and the University of Texas on the occasion of the annual commencement exercises of that institution. He declared he was in agreement with Dr. Splawn that the University should receive an annual appropriation of $2,500,000 for maintenance in order that its development might be unhampered. He said that while he agreed with Dr. Splawn as to these figures he also wanted the public schools of the state to receive an annual support of $25,000,000. He promised that he would bend his efforts to secure for Texas the greatest educational system in the United States.

Governor Miriam A. Ferguson preceded her husband on the program. She spoke briefly, merely expressing her pleasure at being present on the occasion and her pride in the University.

"CAPITALISTS"—AND DON'T KNOW IT

A good many people who rail against capital are beating their own backs. Some are savings bank depositors; some have shares in building and loan associations; some have bought a liberty bond; some have ordered a stock of goods for their store. All of them, without knowing it, have performed a great miracle, for they have turned the work of their hands or their brains into a new product which, while it helps them, is helping thousands of others. Every one of them is a capitalist as most of us are—unless we are tramps or paupers or ne'er-do-wells—and we may well be proud of the name. For capitalism, instead of being the devilish invention of a few selfish interests, is the great material force that has lifted millions from poverty, degradation and slavery.

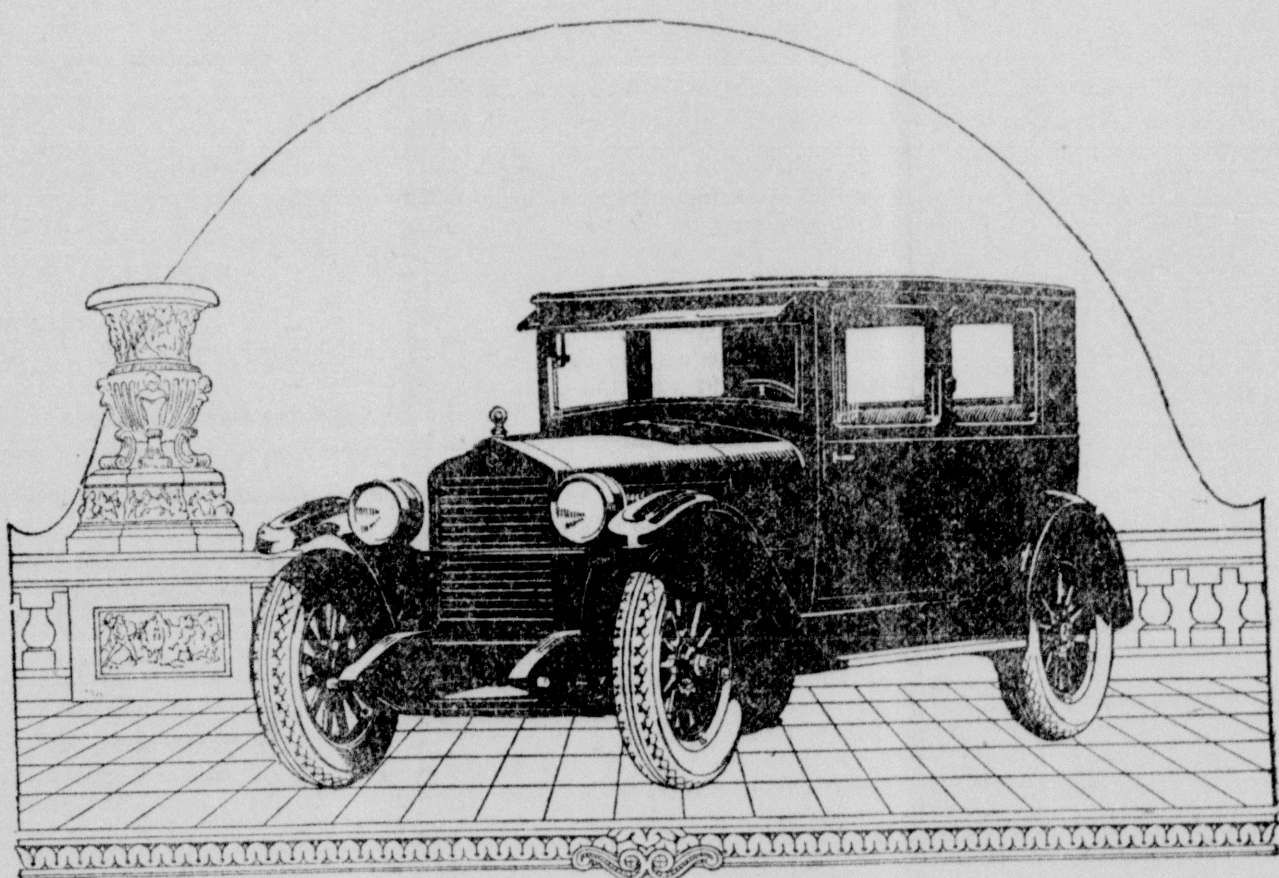

Like other human institutions, capitalism can be abused. So, too, can eye-sight and health and education and love. Part of America's great job is to remedy and prevent such abuses. Same people, however, do not cut off their feet to get rid of their corns.

Capital is today's surplus. It is what gives us a better start tomorrow than we had today. If we don't save it, we don't have it, and when we have it, it is useless until it is put to work.

If thrift is right, then it is right that people should acquire funds as the result of their industry and self-denial. But money that is merely hoarded is like water that becomes stagnant; it is harmful, not helpful. When money is put to work, it is like water power; it turns the wheels of industry, increases employment and raises the general level of comfort.

When every producer can create a surplus and that surplus can be gathered into a common fund and put to work for the common good we shall have reached an ideal condition.—From "The Greatest Family in the World."

Hub DeLay Sweeps Rockdale In Meeting

(By W. E. James, Rockdale Reporter)

Sunday morning at the eleven o'clock hour witnessed one of the most fervent, scholarly and spiritually inspiring services ever held in Rockdale, when Hub DeLay preached his famous mystery sermon, which was easily solved by those who heard and heeded the call. At the close of the hour members of the Methodist, Baptist, Presbyterian, Christian denominations, to the number of one hundred and five rededicated their lives to the cause of Christ and agreed to pay into the Lord's treasure house a tenth of their incomes. DeLay preaches that the world needs more consecrated, God-fearing Christians who are not afraid to face the firing line and do battle for the Lord, not from a sense of duty, but because of the love of Jesus Christ.

DeLay fights the devil, bare-fisted and unafraid. He calls a spade a spade; scores hypocrisy, sham and self-righteousness. He says exactly what he thinks, skins his audiences and proves by the Bible that he has a perfect right to call a fool a fool. He preaches a practical religion and believes the Bible from beginning to end.

Hub DeLay has made but one call for the unsaved thus far in revival, and in doing so stated he made few calls—one or two a month. He believes in a thorough conviction of sinners before they are in a proper state to come to the Lord. He does not scare people into joining the church, but is willing to wait for genuine diagnosis of the present day church, conversions. Notice the following as given by DeLay:

"The trouble with the church today is that it is filled with unredeemed people. Fully fifty per cent of the membership know nothing whatever about salvation and a vital godly life. They have substituted church membership for salvation. They need to be 'born again.'

"If your Christianity consists only of Psalm singing and bench-warming and pitching in a few nickles when you feel like it—then your Christianity is a fraud and a sham—sounding brass and tinkling cymbals.

"The most stupendous, tremendous, heart-breaking failure on God's earth is the man or woman who through the years has claimed to be a follower of Jesus Christ but who has never definitely led a single soul to know Him as their personal savior.

"Some people think that if they can shed a few tears and cry a few cries and sob a few sobs they are perfectly religious. But your Christianity is not wrapped up in your handkerchief; it's wrapped up in your obedience to God.

"Some people think that to be a Christian they must wear a dignified look and when they walk down the church aisle on Sunday they are absolutely abnormal and look like they have just been prepared for burial. That stuff won't get you anywhere. Christianity ought to give you a smiling face and hearty hand shake.

"The church today has too many of you fossilized, ossified, petrified, stiff-starchy, stamped-on-the-cork, blown-in-the-bottle church fixtures."

DeLay sways his audiences with his keenest satire, biting invective, merry wit and humor, or tender pathos. Smiles follow tears, tears follow smiles. Pointed stories, striking poses drive home age-old truths of honesty, decency, goodness and love. The personality of the man is wonderful. The hold that Hub DeLay has upon his audiences was illustrated Sunday evening when the fire alarm sounded right in the middle of his sermon. The unrest that immediately swept the audience was quieted in a moment by the evangelist, who when several men and a few women and girls began to rise hurriedly all over the house, said in his inimical way, "Gentlemen, be seated, and let the ladies attend the fire. They can be of wonderful help to the firemen." However a number of men just had to go to the scene of the fire and when they returned were forced to stand on the outside as their vacated seats were eagerly taken by others.

Second to the preaching of Hub DeLay and second only in difference of the character of preaching, is the solos by E. W. Pfaffenberger. Soloist Pfaffenberger stands at the top as a choir director, assistant evangelist, and general utility man capable of filling any place in the work. He is a national figure, sought far and wide by church and stage, because of his melodious voice and personality. He has been with Mr. DeLay twelve years. This man will charm lovers of music and is attractive as an entertainer to the masses. His smile has become proverbial.

Last Sunday afternoon at 3:30 Mr. DeLay preached to men only at the Methodist church, while Mrs. R. L.

Batte, of Cameron, spoke to the women only at the Baptist church. Both services were worth while and great good is looked forward to as a result.

Next Sunday morning Hub has announced he will preach on the following subject, "If a Woman Should Slap Her Husband in the Face, What Would Happen," Hub says "Call a Doctor or a Peace Officer," but that's wrong. Come out and hear the conclusion. Hub stated that in a town where he held a revival two men who were brother Methodists and officials in the church were at law, one suing the other for $10,000 alleged damages and after hearing him discuss the above subject they dismissed the suit and became friends. Hub says while he saved one of the men $10,000 and lost the same amount to the other, neither of them showed more than 25c worth of gratitude when the "skillet" was passed.

Large crowds gather nightly at the Methodist church, the largest yet witnessed was Sunday night when the church was crowded to overflowing and hundreds of people stood around on the outside. Automobiles were parked three-deep in a line extending a block each way from the church.

Hundreds of people from Cameron and other towns near Rockdale are in attendance nightly and while the service proper does not begin until 8, the Methodist church is filled by 7:30, so if you want a black seat you had better take your supper and camp on the church steps.

HIGHER COURT AFFIRMS DECISION OF DISTRICT JUDGE

(continued from page one) cooding with the contest, and for a temporary injunction until the main injunction case could be heard on its merits. Judge Watson refused the petition for temporary injunction and it was from this refusal that Fowler and others appealed.

The original controversy is said to be a factional matter, growing out of Klan and anti Klan politics. In the election Miss Thomas was the representative of those opposed to the Ku Klux Klan, while G. D. Critchfield and D. W. Key, who were declared elected but resigned upon the institution of the contest, were said to be backed by the Klan. Fowler, one of the plaintiffs in the injunction suit, was a member of the School Board which canvassed the election returns and declared the results, while Gaston and Hatter, the other two plaintiffs in the injunction suit, were two of the three election officers who held the election and made the returns which are attacked by Miss Thomas in her contest.

After the injunction case was appealed Critchfield and Key applied to the Court of Civil Appeals for a writ of mandamus ordering Judge Watson to dismiss the election case. The higher court upheld Judge Watson in both cases, denying the mandamus and affirming his judgment denying the temporary injunction.

FIVE STATES OVER TOP AMERICAN LEGION DRIVE

Several other states, reports indicate, are one the verge of reaching their apportionment of the fund for American war sufferers.

According to Commander McGee the endowment fund campaign is progressing satisfactorily throughout the state although much time has been devoted by necessity to organization work.

"No Texan will fail to respond to this undertaking when acquainted with the needs and purposes of the fund," Commander McGee said. "Before seeking subscriptions, it was necessary to devote some time to explanation of what the endowment fund means.

"The Endowment Fund means above everything else a permanent square deal for two classes in America who suffer most by the war. Those two classes are the men for whom the war has had no armistice and the children who were deprived of paternal care by the deaths of their fathers in and since the war.

"The endowment fund means the guarantee of rehabilitation to disabled men as long as there are disabled veterans of the war and as long as rehabilitation is within the pale of possibility. The endowment fund means homes for orphans, homes for every destitute wife of the 35,000 who survive dead ex-service men.

Could anything be more worthy? Almost every day sees some additional state respond in full with payment of this debt of honor. "Will Texas Be Next?"

KLAN MOVES.

Considerable speculation was occasioned on Thursday of last week when several truckloads of paraphernalia, including the Firey Cross, were removed from the upper story of the McCord building on Main street, which has been occupied for the last two or three years by the Ku Klux Klan. The material was stored in a local warehouse, and it is understood that the Klan has given up its lease on the building.

While no information has been given to the public as to the plans of the Klan for the future, it is thought that the local Klan will resort to the open air for the summer months; and it has been suggested that a commodious Klan hall may be built for winter use somewhere near the city. The only information emanating from known members is to the effect that the local Klan has not disbanded. Visitors to the city on Tuesday nights will miss the weird illumination on which was formerly furnished free gratis by the Firey Cross.

The Power of Thought

By WARREN ORDWAY

(© 1925, Western Newspaper Union.)

MR. HOLLOWAY was in an expansive mood, as he had just come from a good dinner and an ovation. Before an enthusiastic audience at the City club he had made his famous speech on "The Power of Thought."

He unbuttoned his vest and seated himself before his "workbench," as he liked to call his mahogany desk. "Now, if I can have an uninterrupted hour I can get some real work out of the way," he said.

Quiet thought was what accomplished things! From the day when as a young man, Holloway had stumbled across the formula for hardening the rubber in tires he had longed for time to think.

A workman entered and stood before Mr. Holloway's desk asking his advice. Mr. Holloway rose, cursing the interruption, and followed the workman into an adjoining room where the last finishing touches were being put on some alterations. The workman asked a question about the trim, which Mr. Holloway answered instantly.

He did not return at once to his office, but walked about the room, admiring the details. It was to be an absolutely quiet room.

"When this quiet room is finished I'll be able to get some real work done!" Mr. Holloway exclaimed, as he returned to his desk.

No sooner had he got squared away than the office manager, a thin, nervous fellow, in a black haircloth coat, bustled up. "Mr. Holloway, I'm at my wits' end," he fumed. "They're taking my storage space for factory materials, and I don't know where in the world I'm going to put the transfer correspondence." He spread a plan on his chief's desk.

Mr. Holloway scrutinized the plan, and like a flash, the solution came to him. He picked up the plan and boomed: "I'll let you know later. And in the meantime I'll give the matter my best thought."

The telephone rang and a City club secretary a thousand miles away asked if he would give his speech before their organization. "Yes, yes!" he shouted, and turned with a groan back to his plan.

A young man quietly entered the democratic office and stood before Mr. Holloway's desk. "I'm from Successful Men Magazine, and our readers want your ideas on the power of thought." Mr. Holloway gave his views, his voice trembling with the desire to throw the interrupting young man into the street.

A few days later the quiet room was finished. Every stick of furniture was in its place, and even the bronze reproduction of Rodin's "Thinker," reposed on the mantle. Mr. Holloway cleared the room of reporters and guests and announced he should first consider the problem of the office manager's transfer files.

Mr. Holloway sank back into one of the capacious padded leather chairs. This was the critical moment to which he had looked forward all through his business life. No more distractions; no more snap judgments, but from now on every decision firmly rooted in the deep thought that flourishes only in silence.

He spread the office manager's plan on the table, folded his hands across his unbuttoned vest and closed his eyes, the better to concentrate on the problem. He leaned his head against the leather chair back and relaxed every muscle.

The silence of the room hung over him like a blanket. He could hear the blood pounding in his head, while in his ears there rang a sharp, thin sound, like a distant locomotive whistle.

The ringing in his ears grew louder and became the whistle of a yacht—his yacht, bought with the extra profits made through the use of the silent room. He was standing on deck as the glorious boat plowed the blue waters of the Mediterranean sea. But what was the booming and that rattle of guns? A pirate ship in the distance! Its cannon was firing a shot a second, and its small arms were rattling an accompaniment. It was coming nearer, nearer. He shouted to the captain of his yacht. "Shoot! Why don't you shoot!"

Mr. Holloway awoke with a start. He snapped on the light and looked at his watch. After six! He had slept for over four hours!

He opened the great felt door and tiptoed across the dark, deserted office to where his hat was hanging. Glancing about, fearful lest he should meet one of his employees, he slunk shamefacedly to the elevator.

Next morning the office manager stood expectantly before Mr. Holloway's desk. "Did you decide about those cases of transfer correspondence?" he asked.

Mr. Holloway handed him a cigar and cleared his throat. "Don't be surprised," he warned with a nervous laugh.

After the two men had lighted their cigars Mr. Holloway ordered: "You can store the stuff in the new quiet room."

"Wha-wha-a-at?" stammered the office manager.

Mr. Holloway continued more confidently, now the first shock was over. "I've revised my slogan. From now on it's to be, 'Thought plus action.' You might have fifty copies struck off and distributed to all my department heads."
